

GRHS's Art Teacher: Nicole Rusin

Nicole Rusin is a Teacher of Art at Glen Rock High School.

Rusin has taught a variety of art courses during her time at the school. She excels in teaching sculpture and is a master of differentiation, often times teaching multiple levels and a wide variety of abilities within the classroom.

She has also been instrumental in adding real-world applications into her classes, such as interior design, where a project asking students to develop plans to redo the faculty room eventually came to fruition.

Rusin is a co-advisor of the High School's Alliance Club and has been instrumental in promoting acceptance in the high school.

Additionally, she is the faculty High School DEAC representative and is currently exploring Action Research in one of our Professional Learning Communities.
